

DISPOSAL OF LIBRARY MATERIALS
POLICY NO. 5

It is the policy of the Walla Walla Public Library to remove from its collection library materials that are no longer needed in the collection, that are factually obsolete, that are in a state of physical disrepair, or that are extra copies.

The disposal of library materials shall be accomplished as follows:

Surplus library materials of market value may be exchanged for property of equal value and/or sold for market value.

Surplus library materials of no market value, including materials in a state of physical disrepair and/or which are factually obsolete, may be given to nonprofit organizations, recycled or discarded.
